

CHANTAL GAUTHIER

She doesn't make a lot of noise; it is more her strength of character and determination that positions her as a decision-maker at town council. Her name: Chantal Gauthier.

Her involvement in several committees, including human resources, public works, traffic, finance, town planning, as well as engineering and infrastructure, has enabled her to acquire a vast experience over the past four years. With this global vision and a solid background, Chantal is ready for a second mandate, to benefit of the citizens of Ste. Agathe.

During her professional career, for 26 years Chantal worked in the water purification service of the town of Sainte-Agathe-des-Monts. Proud of her accomplishments, during 24 years Chantal was the only unionized blue-collar woman in the town's employ, and is presently the only woman on the town council. Now, as a retiree, she divides her time between her duties as town councillor and that of a caregiver.

Discreet by nature, she has never sought the limelight, preferring instead to foster a constructive dialogue in an effort to get things done for the benefit of her team. For 4 years, her co-councillors have appreciated her frankness and solidarity as a valued member of their team.
